

Upgraded version of optoelectronic hybrid cable

Overview

Active Optical Cable (AOC) is developed as a replacement for direct-attached copper (DAC) cables. AOC is primarily used in data centers and other high-performance computing environments. Compared to typical copper cables, AOC enhances both speed and transmission distance performance. DuetConnect Hybrid Copper-Fiber Cables allow one cable to offer the advantages of DC power and fiber, safely delivering both over long distances to remote locations where standard power is unavailable or too costly to install. Various cable constructions within the portfolio offer unlimited. Imagine a cable that seamlessly integrates the speed of light with the reliability of electrical power. This innovative design not only enhances data transmission speeds but. A hybrid cable combines two transmission media: Optical fibers for data, typically single-mode or multimode.
