

What router is good and cheap for connecting to fiber optic cable

Overview

Our top overall pick is the Netgear Nighthawk RS700S, a Wi-Fi 7 router built for multi-gig fiber plans that handles up to 200 devices across 3,500 square feet. For budget-conscious households, the TP-Link Archer AX55 delivers reliable Wi-Fi 6 performance without the premium price. A fiber-optic connection is the best choice for fast home internet as it has a number of advantages compared to traditional copper cables, such as faster speeds and less interference. Many major ISPs, such as Verizon and Xfinity, offer fiber connections directly to your door, known as FttP or Fiber. However, you need a router capable of supporting multi-gig speeds to get fiber internet connectivity. Whether you're streaming, gaming, or working from home. The solution is simple: invest in a fiber-compatible router. Therefore, to help you choose the best routers for fiber internet, the guide. This guide will walk you through everything you need to know, from decoding tech specs to matching features to your lifestyle, so you can confidently choose the perfect fiber optic router for home and unleash the full potential of your internet.
